Serenity

Recliner

Designed with a patient's comfort and ease of use in mind, the Serenity Recliner can be positioned in multiple ways for patients with different needs. The chair back and footrest move independently, letting a patient or caregiver select from an infinite number of positions within a given range. An upholstered wingchair style gives the chair a less clinical, more inviting appeal. Optional accessories add to its patient-centered functionality.

Designed by Nemschoff

Details

Optional padded push bar accommodates caregivers.

5" (13cm) casters, or optional central brake and steer.

Independently operated back and footrest with infinite adjustability within a given range allows for a variety of positions.
